Truman Remarks Reported Hurt Ike Deeply

Future Relations
Seen Cool; General
To Ignore Blasts

HONOLULU (AP) — A reliable source today said President Truman's "demagoguery" statement cut President - elect Eisenhower deeply and just about killed any chance of friendly relations between the two in the future.

This reaction was disclosed a short time before Eisenhower was to leave Hawaii bound for New York City, which he left secretly just two weeks ago for Korea. He is due to arrive at the Marine air terminal at LaGuardia Field at 1 p. m., EST, tomorrow.

It was learned that Eisenhower was shocked and puzzled by President Truman's blast at his Korean trip. Informants said the President-elect felt the Truman statement was uncalled for, undignified and should be ignored.

The informants said Eisenhower would continue along the course he has set to find a solution to the Korean conflict, including a study of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's proposals.

The once friendly relationship between Eisenhower and Truman, it was said, had been badly strained by accusations made during the heat of the presidential campaign—but the new incident points to a coldly formal relationship in the future.

Relationship Strained
"This looks like the finish of any informal across-the-desk meetings between the two," this source said. "If there is another meeting, it probably will be a cold affair."

Truman told a news conference Thursday that the Eisenhower trip to Korea was a "piece of political demagoguery." It is known here that Eisenhower thinks this was a low blow which he did not deserve from the President.

Also, Eisenhower is represented as thinking that the Truman statement was poor psychology for the troops in Korea who had received a lift in spirits from his visit to combat units.

Considered Worthwhile
The President - elect considers the Korean trip—and the conferences that followed with his top advisers — a worthwhile venture that already has paid good dividends in the formation of future policy.

The general held his final major conference with his advisers Thursday evening before most of them left Hawaii to return to the mainland.

One of his advisers said, "This meeting was the most important of the whole trip. It was brief—but very, very important in setting the course of the new administration."

It is understood there were no pin-point decisions made but that the group "did a lot of business" in establishing overall agreements in which Korea was a part.

Since that meeting, Eisenhower

Scholarship Association Names Dawson

E. S. Dawson, plant superintendent of the Deming Co., was re-elected president of the Salem Community Scholarship Association at the annual meeting Friday night at the High School.

C. F. Coburn was re-elected vice president and Henry Zimmerman was named trustee for two years, succeeding John Hochadel, who is retiring.

Other officers are George Perault and Dr. Donald Lease, trustees; Elmer Kerr, secretary, and E. M. Stevenson, treasurer. A new secretary and treasurer will be appointed later by the trustees.

An amendment to the constitution, increasing the terms of the president and vice president to two years instead of one was adopted. The amendment will go into effect next year.

Topics discussed were the recent campaign for funds and loans made this year and anticipated loans.

Taste Of City Water Fails To Tempt Throats Of Thirsty

There are people who claim that the water consumption in the city has dropped to a remarkable extent since Salem's new East Cold Run Reservoir began operation several weeks ago.

Reports are also circulating that the establishments associated with the dispensing of every other type of liquid in town have done an unprecedented business during the same period.

Which only emphasizes the oft-voiced lament—part of the general conversation wherever conversation is made in Salem these days—"Water, water everywhere and not a drop fit to drink."

To members of the City Water Department it must seem grossly unfair to be again the object of public condemnation. First they were berated because they were not providing the inhabitants with enough water.

Then, a storm descended about under-estimated costs connected with the construction of the new reservoir, designed to provide sufficient water.

Now, there's plenty of water, but, citizens complain, it tastes awful.

The clerks in the Water Department office have been driven frantic by phone calls inquiring, "What is the matter with this water?" Persons paying their bills seldom leave the office without a derogatory remark concerning the water taste.

Instances have been recorded of children, residing in rural areas where wells constitute the supply, bringing their own drinking water in bottles.

Persons who are supplied by private wells in the city have been harassed by neighbors trooping in and out of their houses with pails at all hours of the day. There's been nothing like it since the birth of television, they say.

One local woman has gone so far as to blame the new city water for the deaths of her pet goldfish.

However, despite the "different" taste of the water, Water Superintendent B. V. Bevier has declared that it is quite safe for consumption.

And its distinct flavor will fade away as time passes, he said.

When the city was using well water, he explained, growths of iron bacteria built up the city's mains. The new water, containing a very low iron content, is killing off the bacteria, thereby imparting to the water its off flavor, he explains.

Also, he said, Salem people have become used to the metallic taste of the old well water and this flavor is not present any longer.

He stressed, however, that the water will gradually improve in taste, pointing out that yesterday its odd flavor was hardly noticeable.

Two Men Are Fined After Road Mishaps

Two drivers were fined as the result of the two traffic mishaps investigated Friday and today by Salem State Highway Patrolmen.

Clarence Utter, 39, of Barboursburg was cited by patrolmen for parking on the highway after his car was involved in a chain reaction mishap on Route 30, north of East Liverpool, at 9:15 p.m. Friday with cars operated by Lester Richardson, 32, of East Liverpool and William Pitcock, 34, of Pittsburgh.

He was fined $15 and costs by Justice of the Peace Felix Butch of Lisbon.

Justin Rushin, 25, of Pittsburgh was cited by patrolmen for reckless operation at 12:30 a.m. today after his truck-trailer went out of control and ran into a guard rail on Route 7, four miles south of Rogers.

He also was fined $15 and costs by Justice of the Peace Butch.

Frehill Named As Head Of OPS; To Trim Payroll

Truman Is Expected
To Name Industry
Members To WSB

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman was expected to prop up his buffeted controls program today by naming new industry members to the Wage Stabilization Board after picking a new price boss.

The President appointed Joseph H. Frehill yesterday as administrator of the Office of Price Stabilization. Frehill, a native New Yorker, had been acting in that capacity since Tighe Woods resigned Nov. 24.

Truman told his Thursday news conference he would end the WSB paralysis before the week was out. And Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam said a few hours later he had sent a list of proposed appointments to the White House.

Backlog Of 12,000 Cases
The WSB has been unable to get to its backlog of 12,000 cases since the seven industry members resigned a week ago. They quit in a protest against Truman's action in overruling the board to bring a soft coal miners' wage increase to $1.90 a day instead of the $1.50 a day approved by the board.

By law the three-cornered WSB can not meet unless all segments—industry, unions, the public—are represented.

The President's attempts to shore up the anti-inflation program came under mounting pressure for the scuttling of wage-price controls. But he showed no sign of being moved by the opposition of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers or the CIO.

To Lay Off Fourth
After his appointment as OPS chief yesterday Frehill promptly announced that one-fourth of his staff must be laid off because of a lack of funds.

Frehill said OPS will cut its payroll from an estimated 5,650 employees on Jan. 1 to 4,125 by Jan. 31. Dismissal notices will go out after Christmas, he said, to 400 workers in Washington and about 1,000 in the agency's 93 field offices.

"This move is necessary," the statement said, "so we can live within the amount of money that Congress gave us to operate until next April 30 when the controls will expire unless an extension is approved."

Frehill said Congress appropriated $36,900,000 of the 62 million dollars OPS requested for operating expenses from last July through next April. He said less than 10 millions will be left on Jan. 1.

Gen. Bradley May Find Himself
In Middle Of Ike-Truman Tiff

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mild old Gen. Omar Bradley, who doesn't like arguments, was back in town today and faced with prospects of finding himself the middle man in an Eisenhower-Truman tiff.

Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and World War II colleague of Gen. Eisenhower in the battle of Europe, was picked by President - elect Eisenhower to go with him on the journey to Korea.

Eisenhower said that mission, from which he is now returning, was to seek a way for honorable conclusion of the war. But Truman says the trip was the result of campaign demagoguery by Eisenhower.

The JCS chairman flew back to Washington last night, in company with Cabinet officers and advisers Eisenhower has selected and who were in the mid-Pacific conference earlier in the week.

It was expected he would make an official report at the White House today on the military situation he found in Korea, where Eisenhower and his party conferred with theater and field commanders.

Explosive Morocco Issue Before U. N.

Man Arrested In Connection With Mass Slaying

Suspected As Killer
Of Three Children,
Grocer In California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Travis Hall, 27, was arrested by two San Francisco police inspectors in Richmond Calif. across the bay this morning in connection with the mass slaying of a grocer and three children in Chester Calif.

Police Inspectors Edward O'Haire and Michael Doherty said Hall was known in Chester as Al Foley.

Hall was taken to the San Francisco jail, where he has been booked on a technical holding charge.

Travis Hall's occupation was listed as steelworker. He is 27. His father, 49, runs a janitorial cleaning service in Fresno.

The tip on "Al Foley," came last week when an unnamed informant told police he was approached in a bowling alley by a man he came to know as "Foley."

Taken To San Francisco
The informant was asked to be a "driver" in the holdup of a man named Young. The informant said he refused to take part in the plan.

Inspectors O'Haire and Doherty immediately began work on the new lead.

Gard Young, 43, grocery store proprietor in the small Plumas County town of Chester, was slain on a lonely logging road between Chester and Westwood, where he had gone to get $7,128 in cash for cashing lumbermen's paychecks.

Also brutally beaten to death were his daughters Jean 7, and Judy 6, and little Michael Saile, 4, son of a neighbor. Beaten and left for dead in the trunk of her father car was 3-year-old Sondra Gay Young.

The tiny survivor, after regaining consciousness, told in simple words how two men in a big sedan—one of them masked—bludgeoned her father, her two sisters and their playmate.

Gridiron Dinner May Provide Hint To GOP Senate Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — A casual meeting tonight at a banquet may provide a clue to the identity of the Republican majority leader in the new Senate opening Jan. 3.

Senators Bridges (R-NH) and Taft (R-Ohio), two of the men discussed most prominently for the leadership post, are to be guests at the Gridiron Club Dinner at a downtown hotel.

Also expected to attend the Gridiron Dinner are two of President-elect Eisenhower's Cabinet choices—Herbert Brownell, attorney general, and George Humphrey, secretary of the Treasury, who returned here last night from their Pacific conference with the general.

Bridges told a news conference yesterday he expected to talk with Taft at the dinner about Senate organization problems.

The Ohio senator, long his party's most influential spokesman on Capitol Hill, might indicate in that chat how he feels now about the leadership situation.

There was no indication that Brownell or Humphrey might sit in on the Bridges-Taft conversation, although Brownell has played a prominent role in helping shape the new administration.

GOP senators now in Washington have turned increasingly toward Bridges for the leadership job in the last week.

The New Hampshire senator himself confirmed at the news conference that he had been under growing pressure to take the job since Taft blasted President-elect Eisenhower's choice of Martin P. Durkin to be secretary of labor.

Some Republican senators have said they feared Taft's blistering statement might cause a party split—something they want to avoid at all costs. They look to Bridges as the best compromise choice for leader.

However, none has professed to know exactly what position Taft actually wants in the Republican controlled Senate.

The Ohioan now holds the important post of chairman of his party's Senate Policy Committee. He has said he was available for leader in the new session but was not seeking it.

Only 2 Movie Houses In Toronto To Close

TORONTO, O. (AP)—The only two movie houses in this Jefferson County city of 7,500 will shut down next week. Manos Enterprises claims a city admission tax has made both theaters unprofitable.

The two theaters part of a chain of 20 Manos operates in Ohio have served the community for more than 30 years. One will close Sunday the other Monday.

The city admission tax, passed after a similar state tax was dropped a few years ago, places a two-cent tax on each adult ticket and a penny on each child admission.

In a referendum at the November election voters refused to kill the city's admissions tax.

Assembly Okays Mild Resolution On Tunisia

France Asked To Negotiate On Tunisia
Freedom Demand

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The United Nations put the explosive situation in French-ruled Morocco to an examination today, only a few hours after winding up a tense debate on Tunisia—another French North African protectorate.

Rushing to finish up as much of its business as possible before the Christmas holidays, the General Assembly's 60 - nation Political Committee took only a half day rest before opening discussion on violence-torn Morocco.

The committee completed its debate on Tunisia last night with the adoption of a mildly-worded Latin American resolution which merely asked France to negotiate on Tunisian demands for independence.

The vote was 45-3 with 10 abstentions, including the Soviet bloc and Britain.

Vote Down Tough Plan
Earlier the committee had voted down 27-24 a tougher Arab-Asian resolution which called for French-Tunisian negotiations under a three man U. N. good offices commission. Seven nations abstained on that ballot.

France was absent from the Tunisian debate and has given advance notice she will not attend the discussions on Morocco. She maintains her relations with the two protectorates are an internal matter and go concern of the U. N.

The thirteen Arab-Asian nations, which brought both issues into the Assembly, hardly had time to lick their wounds from the defeat of their Tunisian plan before they were forced to jump into the Moroccan question.

The group, made up of Afghanistan, Burma, Egypt, India, Indonesia, Iran, Iraq, Lebanon, Pakistan, The Philippines, Saudi Arabia, Syria and Yemen, had devoted its entire efforts to pushing through its proposals on Tunisia.

Only a subcommittee had worked on preliminary drafts concerning Morocco, and the group was forced to hasten a final proposal to be put before the U. N.

The Tunisian debate was noted for its moderation, despite the backdrop of bloody violence that ended in the assassination of Tunisian labor and nationalist leader Farhat Hached outside Tunis just as delegates began arguing here.

Poling Jailed
For Neglect Of Baby Daughter

CLEVELAND (AP)—Laundry truck driver Charles Poling, 21, started serving an 11-month term in the workhouse today for neglecting his four-month-old daughter. A judge accused him of "trying to get rid" of her.

Poling's daughter, Rosemary, still is being treated for a broken right arm and two broken legs. She also once was treated for a brain hemorrhage.

During the trial, Poling's wife, Marie, 18, testified Poling explained the broken arm and legs at first by saying he "slapped the baby around" but changed this later and said he was "kidding."

In convicting Poling and putting his wife on probation for neglect, Juvenile Court Judge William J. McDermott told him Friday:

"You are guilty of neglect of this innocent angel, and more and worse things happened to her in those months than happen to most people in a lifetime."

Pastor Recalled
By NazarenesRev. Parks Enters
9th Year At Church

Rev. E. M. Parks, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene for the past eight years, was recalled last Sunday as pastor for the coming church year.

During the eight years of his ministry here, 80 new members have joined the church. The Sunday school has doubled its enrollment.

Rev. E. M. Parks

ment and the church has shown progress both spiritually and materially. Recently the congregation purchased a new parsonage on Cleveland St. and built an addition to the church.

The church addition houses a new $15,000 educational unit and only has an indebtedness of less than $2,000. The parsonage is without debt.

Many new improvements have been made in the sanctuary, including a new grand piano. An entirely new platform and choir loft with a circular altar has just been completed and new carpet laid.

Future plans for the church include a new outdoor bulletin board and interior redecoration. Beginning Jan. 13 an evangelistic campaign will start under the direction of Rev. Chester Plummer.

Methodist

A White Gift Christmas offering will be brought for the benefit of Methodist homes at Berea and Elvira by the Salem Methodist congregation.

"The Song of Christmas" will be presented by the choir Sunday at 10:55 a.m. in observance of the third Sunday in Advent.

Sunday, Dec. 21, following the morning Christmas worship and sermon, a service of baptism will take place at 4 p.m.

Presbyterian members will be guests at the Christmas Eve Service Wednesday, Dec. 24, at 11:15 p.m.

Those wishing to give memorial poinsettias for Christmas may call Mrs. Willis' Home.

Senior Youth Fellowship members will meet Sunday at 6:30 p.m. to go to the Winona church. Intermediate Youth Fellowship will meet at 5 p.m.

Commission on education will meet Monday at 7 p.m. Official board will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Junior Choir will rehearse Thursday at 4 p.m., the Junior High choir will practice at 6:45 and the Senior Choir at 7:30 p.m.

Special Christmas activities are being planned for Sunday, Dec. 21, during the church school hour and parents of children in the primary departments are invited to visit.

Presbyterian

Dr. Paul W. Gauss will preach Sunday morning in the First Presbyterian Church. This theme will be "Jesus Came and His Mother's Name was Mary."

The Carol Choir will sing "Christ is Born of Maiden Fair," and the Haviland Choir will sing "A Cradle Hymn."

Presbyterian congregation is invited to the Methodist Christmas Eve candle-lighting service at 11:15.

Senior High will have "Christmas Workshop II" Sunday at 6:30 and the tree will be trimmed. The annual child supper for all the youth groups will be Sunday Dec. 21, at 5:30 p.m. in the chapel. The younger groups will go caroling and the Presbyterians will have a party.

This Sunday evening the Presbyterians will be led in singing by Mrs. Walter Hofmeister, with Paty Steffel as devotional leader.

Junior High will hold their Christmas party following Chancel Choir rehearsal Thursday evening. The music committee of the session has appointed Bryce Kendall as new director of the Westmin-

A Hymn Is Born

BY CLINT BONNER

I Need Thee Every Hour

A housewife writes a hymn

Behind every hymn there is a story—if only the story can be found.

There was no tragedy, no ominous cloud of disaster. There was no loss of a loved one, no anxiety, or fear, or grief to bring Anne Sherwood Hawks closer to God. She was in the best of health, in the prime of life and the idol of a devoted husband and family. There was no comfort lacking in her Brooklyn home. In brief, Anne Sherwood Hawks had not a care in the world.

On a beautiful, clear day in June, 1872, Mrs. Hawks put aside her housework to reflect over her good fortune and to thank God for His many blessings. "I remember well the morning," she wrote, "I was so filled with the sense of nearness to the Master . . . that these words, 'I Need Thee Every Hour' were ushered into my mind. . . . So, instead of disturbing conditions that have inspired the writing of many great hymns, Anne Sherwood Hawks made her best contribution to church singing during 'hours of sweet security and peace.'"

The writing of poetry was not new to Mrs. Hawks. Ever since she was a teen-age girl in Hockley, N. Y., where she was born in 1835, she had written verse. Moving to Brooklyn, in 1857, she united with the Hanson Place Baptist Church and was further encouraged in her writing by Pastor Robert Lowery.

Mrs. Hawks gave her poem, "I Need Thee Every Hour," to the Rev. Dr. Lowery. Lowery, author-composer of many a notable hymn, including "Shall We Gather At the River?", wrote a chorus and set it to music. It was first sung in November of that year at the National Baptist Sunday School Convention in Cincinnati and immediately became popular. Dr. Lowery published it in his song book, "Royal Diadem." Ira Sankey sang it all over England and America. It echoed through the auditoriums of Chicago's World Fair. Astounded at the popularity of her hymn, Mrs. Hawks said, "I do not understand why it so touched the great throbbing heart of humanity."

But in 1888, sixteen years later, Anne Sherwood Hawks understood. The death of her husband "cast the shadow of a great loss" over her life. Through the 30 years that followed, until she died in 1918, Anne Sherwood Hawks turned to her own hymn for comfort. And so, while the author did not come to fully appreciate the true value of her hymn until long after she wrote it, there is, after all, a story behind the writing of . . .

I need Thee every hour,
Most gracious Lord;
No tender voice like Thine
Can peace afford.

I need Thee every hour,
Stoy Thou near by;
Temptations lose their power
When Thou art nigh.

I need Thee every hour,
In joy or pain;

Come quickly and abide,
Or life is vain.

I need Thee every hour,
Most Holy One;
O make me Thine indeed,
Thou blessed Son.

Chorus:
I need Thee, O, I need Thee!
Every hour I need Thee!
O bless me now my Saviour,
I come to Thee!

Free Yourself From Self-Made Prison

In my career as a minister, I have had many unusual experiences. I am able to write about one of these today because the man about whom it centered is dead.

and I can tell you his story without embarrassment to him.

One day I received a telephone call from the treasurer of a small but substantial company. He asked me to come at once to see the president of his company.

"What's the trouble?" I asked. People usually wait until there is some trouble before they call a minister.

"He's having some kind of attack," the treasurer said.

"You don't need me; you need a doctor," I answered.

"But this isn't a physical attack," Dr. Peale. It's an emotional attack. He is supposed to finish a deal to buy some securities; a very large amount of money is involved, and he seems to have broken down completely. In fact, at this moment he seems to have gone to pieces, and no one can do anything with him. Won't you please come down?"

I AGREED to go and found the man in his office with the treasurer. He was slumped in his chair and by every action gave evidence of emotional upset, and his desk was covered with papers to be signed.

"He's supposed to buy these securities," the treasurer said, "and all he has to do is to sign these papers. But he tells me he simply can't do it."

I called the man by name and said, "Jim, why can't you sign these papers? Why can't you go through with this deal?"

He looked up and took my hand, "Norman, help me, stand by me, don't leave me."

"I'm not going to; I came here to do what I can. What's wrong with you?"

"Everything's wrong. The vice-president of his company is trying to get my job, and I'm afraid to take a chance on this deal. If I make a mistake, he will blame it on me, and the directors will give him my job."

I asked the treasurer a little more about the situation, and he told me that the president's fears were groundless. He couldn't understand the cause. As we talked, Jim kept saying, "What shall I do, what shall I do?"

I decided to take a chance. The treasurer assured me that the security purchase was a good one, although I know nothing about stocks and bonds. I talked to Jim like a Dutch uncle. "Don't be defeated by anything like this. Stand up like a man and make your decision. You have good advice available here." Finally, I persuaded him to sign. And, fortunately for me, the purchase was a profitable one.

IT WAS NOT UNTIL much later that I got to the root of his trouble. His emotional fear and insecurity stemmed from an old sin he had committed and which had never been cast from his mind. He had a deep, unconscious feeling that he should be punished, and this caused the insecurity complex. He was unable to make decisions until this central core of guilt at the center of his life was removed. When I saw him on that day in his office, he was a man in prison, a self-prison. Hence, his profound inner panic. But he found freedom and release, and with it a real competence.

Just as this man imprisoned himself, many of us lie in dungeons we make for ourselves. Charles Dickens wrote, "I wear the chains I forged in life." It is a fact that we manufacture our own chains and are bound by them.

How do we get released from self-made prisons? There is an old saying, "Stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage." But thoughts do. Finely drawn wires can make a cable strong enough to carry a bridge.

So a thought repeated many times accumulates strength until finally it binds the personality. But there is another and more powerful type of thinking that can break these self-created bonds. And that is faith—faith in God.

Every day, many times a day, think a faith thought. These thoughts will also accumulate until their mighty power will break the hold of fear and insecurity. This process will release anyone from his self-prison.

Christianity is a strange story, isn't it? It tells of a man who lived before he was born; died, and lived again; is now gone from this earth, and is coming back again. Would you believe it?

Stranger than fiction, isn't it? Reports of "flying saucers" or a new comet or an eclipse excite us no end. But one of these days, if you are still alive—and you have a pretty good chance—you will look into the sky and see a man, Jesus Himself, coming down again, just as He went up! "Behold, he cometh with clouds; and every eye shall see him." Revelation 1:7.

That event is going to be both wonderful and terrible. It will be like a hundred H-Bombs exploding in one place! "All the cities . . . were broken down at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce anger." Jeremiah 4:26. Christ, it is said, will destroy the forces of unrighteousness "with the brightness of his coming." II Thessalonians 2:8.

The cemeteries of earth will give up their righteous dead when Jesus comes. The broken earth will discharge the recreated bodies of those who have held to integrity and righteousness.

A fantastic and marvelous picture is presented by Paul. He declares that God will bring the righteous from death, just as He did Christ. Read what he says: "For the Lord himself will come down from heaven with a loud summons . . . and the dead in Christ will rise first."

"Afterwards we who are alive and survive will be caught up along with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air." I Thessalonians 4:16-17 (Weymouth).

What a picture! And then, after a sojourn in heaven, confirming the justice of God, the saved will return to this recreated earth—eternity and contentment in an everlasting home. No wonder Christianity is held so dear to the hearts of millions.

You can know for sure when all these wonders are about to take place! Jesus Himself plainly told us we could know! After listing a number of "signs" that would be given toward the end of time, preceding His "coming . . . with power and great glory," He said emphatically, "When ye shall see all these things, know that it is near, even at the doors." Matthew 24:33.

One after the other through the years, like the ticking of a great clock, most of the "signs" have been fulfilled. The time is upon us in this day.

In these troubled times with "men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth," Jesus says, "When these things begin to come to pass, then look up, for your redemption draweth nigh." Luke 21:28-28.

We know not the hour—but it is near, "even at the doors." The hour is striking. It is the beginning of God's tomorrow! Are you ready for it? (Next: What Your Adventist Neighbors Believe.)

This is No. 11 of a series, telling briefly of the beliefs and hopes of 750,000 of your Seventh-day Adventist neighbors and friends.

Mail To Be Delivered On Christmas Day

WASHINGTON (AP)—As in previous years, there will be Christmas Day deliveries of packages and other mail this year in cities and towns throughout the country.

In outlining its plans, the Post-office Department said today, however, it still has to decide what to do about mail service on the following day, Friday, Dec. 26, which President Truman has declared a government holiday.

Department officials are conferring on the matter over this weekend with a definite announcement indicated for Monday.

Wine Is a Mocker, strong Drink is raging; don't be deceived, God's word.

Mother Of 12 Daughters Has Hopes For Son

PITTSFIELD, Me. (AP)—A mother of 12 daughters—and no sons—said today the stork was enroute again and she'd like a boy.

But Mrs. Lloyd Brooks, 37, said "our hopes aren't very good." She added, however, "it really doesn't matter whether it's a boy or a girl."

But the other children of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks want a brother this time, their little, brown-haired mother reported.

Mrs. Brown, whose 37-year-old husband is a $50 a week American Woolen Co. dye house worker, said she expects her baby in mid-March.

Colorful arrangements in keeping with the Christmas season, with a decorated Christmas tree, and the attractive setting of the tables where approximately 60 were seated.

The evening was spent in playing games. In charge of the event were Carrie Sanor, Bertha Ward, Esther Snyder, Edith and Alta Baker.

The ladies exchanged gifts with their secret pals. The men and children also enjoyed an exchange of gifts.

North Georgetown

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Schneider were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Schneider at Cleveland.

Ellen Kay Powell is confined to the Salem Clinic where she underwent an appendectomy.

Young People's Class of the Lutheran Sunday School held its monthly business and social meeting Tuesday evening at the church.

A letter was read from an "adopted girl" in Southern Brazil.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party and gift exchange. Mrs. Gene Williams was hostess, assisted by Mrs. Maynard Ebert.

Twenty-nine members attended the Emma Naffziger Missionary meeting at the church Monday evening.

Roll call was answered with a verse of Scripture. June Berger depicted the Nativity as members sang Christmas Carols. June Berger was reader.

A case of canned food will be sent to a needy family in Olney, Mo.

Mrs. Russell Reichenbach and Mrs. Hugh McPherson were presented life membership pins. Gift exchange was enjoyed and "heart sisters" were revealed.

LIFE'S REFLECTIONS

A simple ornament, a fragile, insignificant decoration on a Christmas tree. But look at the beauty it reflects!

Many of us feel that as an individual we have no influence in this world, that our simple, hum-drum existence has no effect on our fellow men.

And yet each human being is a potential source of inspiration and beauty. No matter how humble our station in life, each of us has the power to guide and direct the lives of others. Even slight gestures and remarks can have an important meaning to those about us.

For the sake of others, as well as for our own well-being, let us turn to the Church for inspiration and guidance. Here will we learn to live a life full of goodness and truth, reflecting God's love into dark places.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Spoiling For A Fight

This is the time to remember again that Dwight Eisenhower has shown a genius for pouring oil on troubled waters.

It's evident that he will need a great deal of oil. With Harry Truman destined to be a backseat driver and the Democratic national committee preparing to jab the incoming administration in the eye, there will be no shortage of troubled waters.

The ruckus over Gen. MacArthur's enigmatic statement about some new plan for settling the Korean war reveals how easy it is to stir up a tempest. It was perfectly natural for the president-elect to say he would learn from MacArthur what the latter had in mind; that is the sign of his genius.

But it was equally natural for Harry Truman to snap and snarl against MacArthur, Eisenhower and, presumably the frustration of his own political position. Snapping and snarling in politics has been a way of life in Washington.

The bad-temper era was introduced by Harold Ickes, possessor of one of the meanest tongues in public life. It was given momentum by Franklin D. Roosevelt's intemperate attacks. Those attacks led in turn to abuse of Mr. Roosevelt by the victims of his rancor. From 1933 onward, government officials were spoiling for a fight and always found one.

That is one more item of the mess in Washington which can be washed into the Potomac when the cleanup begins.

Blackmail By The Kremlin

Do not imagine that outbursts of murder and terror in French Morocco, South Africa, Indochina and elsewhere are without significance to the United States.

These are likely spots for the outbreak of the next military incident in World War III, the war which began with invasion of the republic of South Korea two and a half years ago.

American fighting men may become involved in military action in these places. Blackmail by the Kremlin is worldwide and continuous. Any responsible person on the scene can find instantly the tell-tale traces of the hammer and sickle.

It is a technique which thrives on ignorance. But even in relatively literate countries it has been possible for Communist conspirators to mislead malcontents.

In the United States, the conspirators not only have exploited the hates and prejudices of ignorant minorities but have twisted the abilities of intellectuals into the Kremlin's service.

There is no point of friction too small or too tender for the blackmailers to turn to their purposes. They pounce on every weakness, every unsolved problem, every sensitive spot in a world cursed with multitudes of weaknesses, unsolved problems and sensitive spots.

Watch the sources of the news about bloodshed and rioting. They are the next places where Americans may be bearing arms in the worldwide campaign to rid civilization of Communist blackmail.

Disloyalty Was Not Accidental

In the federal grand jury report on subversives in the United Nations, a process of public influence is described.

Communist sympathizers were planted systematically in the federal government by key figures, known to and tolerated by the Roosevelt and Truman administrations.

Once they were on the payroll, these subversives stayed there, passing from one bureau to another. Many of them wound up in the United Nations, which became a kind of sanctuary for bureaucrats whose disloyalty to the United States had become palpable.

Their disloyalty was not accidental. These were not ordinary people. These were people chosen for a parasitic existence on the federal payroll because it was their function to poison federal personnel against the existing form of government in the United States.

It will take a long time to get rid of all of them. But it will take no time at all to choke off the flow of new subversives into federal employment.

That will happen to instant the federal government passes from the hands of people sympathetic with subversion to the hands of an administration with no red taint on its thinking.

The Henry Wallaces, Alger Hisses, Lee Pressmans, Nathan Witts, Harry Dexter Whites and Owen Lattimore were not accidental. They were planned that way by the people who put them on the federal payroll and kept them there.

When poles and fire plugs make auto drivers stop and think, it may be too late.

Don't be surprised if the world keeps you in hot water—when you have cold feet.

If the put out of cigarettes were as big as the output, we'd have fewer forest fires.

Burglars in a western town, speeding away with a grocery store strong box, were caught. Fined for safe driving!

Words To Regret

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Truman Can't Alter Facts With Bitter Charges

The mellow mood of President Truman after the election—the promise to be tolerant and let the new administration get started before engaging in any criticism—seems to have ended even before inauguration day.

Mr. Truman made a bitter attack not only on the president-elect—calling his Korean trip a piece of campaign demagoguery—but he accused Gen. MacArthur of failing in military etiquette when he didn't go immediately to the White House on his arrival in Washington from Tokyo in April 1951.

Just who was guilty of violating "etiquette" is not difficult to establish. Gen. MacArthur, after having remained on active duty longer than any other high officer—he fought continuously through World War II and served as America's top representative in occupied Japan, doing what everyone concedes was a commendable job—suddenly learned by radio that he had been dismissed from all his posts.

Not an opportunity was given Gen. MacArthur to say farewell to his troops. No chance was afforded the Far Eastern commander to come home for a personal conference with the President of the United States before a removal order was issued.

All the rules of courtesy in military life and all that might be termed good manners between a President of the United States and a man who had been a gallant soldier in two world wars were brushed aside.

The ignominy of that occurrence cannot be erased by a new charge of broken etiquette because the deposed general, who was invited to address Congress, didn't come hat in hand to cringe before the President while he was in Washington.

If Mr. Truman had desired to see the general, there would have been no question about obedience to such a request.

But the record made by the joint hearings of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations and the Senate Armed Services Committee is clear.

It shows that Mr. Truman never even advised the members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff that he intended summarily to dismiss Gen. MacArthur.

The late Admiral Sherman, chief of naval operations, told this correspondent that the first he knew of the decision was when he read it in the newspapers on the morning it was announced, though he had been in on some of the discussions before the decision was reached.

When a President of the United States arbitrarily deposes a military commander without obtaining a definite recommendation from his own joint chiefs of staff and when he does so primarily because of a political motivation, no case can be made for lack of courtesy on the part of the victim of his "purge."

Faster Than People

By TRUMAN TWILL

Since all of us are going to pay for it, each of us is entitled to wonder what the supersonic airplane is going to do for us.

As an abstract accomplishment in aeronautics, planes that can fly faster than 700 miles an hour and break the sonic barrier, represent a triumph over air resistance.

Nuclear fission represented a triumph over the affinity of atoms for one another. But neither nuclear fission nor supersonic flight can be regarded as an abstract accomplishment.

Both are concerned with the welfare of people. And it is deeply doubtful if people stand to gain anything until they have overcome barriers and affinities rougher to lick than anything ever tackled by physicists and engineers.

There is no substantial difference between this sort of thing and what was done to the North American Indians when they were given firewater and guns before they knew what these things could do.

It is not essentially different from what happened when white men forced the Japanese at the point of a gun to accept industrialism and international power politics. The world would have been better off had the Japanese been permitted to grow out of feudalism and isolation by slow degrees.

In the twenties, industrialism was peddled to the Russians when they were just emerging from the pastoral age. As it has turned out, that was as dirty a trick as it was to peddle measles and the common cold to the Eskimos, before they had built up immunity.

Are South Sea islanders better off because they have learned to chew gum and take sides in wars they do not understand?

Is there anything to be proud of in the fact that jet airplanes now swish through the sky over a peninsula in Asia whose people are still plowing the ground with sticks?

Is anything being accomplished by mixing up the stages of civilization's progress with - nilly and dropping napalm bombs on mud huts occupied by people who know nothing, except they are being destroyed with weapons they must possess so they can hold their own in future conflicts.

Each new feat of science is supposedly further proof of man's intelligence. Maybe so. But it may be doubted that man is intelligent when he murders himself with his own gadgets. Science, far from be-

For the record shows that nobody in the Joint Chiefs and nobody in the White House did a single thing about suggesting discipline of MacArthur for his views on military matters or on how to handle the Far Eastern problem until the general happened to write a letter to Joseph W. Martin, House Republican leader—a letter not intended for publication—in which a question asked by the minority leader was answered. Within five days the general was removed.

The legal right of members of Congress to ask questions of commanders or enlisted men on active duty is unchallenged. Congress is a coordinate branch of the government with the executive. When a member of Congress, occupying a post of leadership, asks for information that doesn't involve the national security, as was the case in this instance, he has a right to be given the data he requests.

Mr. Truman fired Gen. MacArthur and then sought to build up a case against the general. Administration witnesses came to bolster up the Truman side of the controversy, and it is a matter of record that the Pentagon gave garbled and overcondensed messages to the committee which did not tell all the facts about the Korean situation.

For one thing, the fact that the administration tried to jockey Gen. MacArthur into a position of withdrawing our troops from Korea in December 1950, so that the onus would be placed on him, has never been emphasized, though the file of messages, finally introduced in the record after prodding by Sen. Knowland, shows it plainly.

Mr. Truman says he traveled to Wake Island only to get "misinformation," and he accuses Gen. MacArthur of failing to be aware of the intention of the Communist Chinese to enter the war.

It so happens that the general never has been in the confidence of Communists anywhere, although there are Alger Hisses and others who have been close to the State Department who knew more about Communist intentions than Gen. MacArthur.

There were plenty of agencies of the government whose duty it was to learn enemy intentions, and it seems a bit farfetched for Mr. Truman to blame Gen. MacArthur for not knowing a decision arrived at in Moscow to let China enter the Korean War.

History will not be rewritten by Mr. Truman's bitter charges. He is spending his last days in the White House in a way that he will ultimately regret. If ever there was a time for him to be tolerant, as he views the enormous vote against him cast in the last election, it is in the trying weeks between now and the time the new president takes over and tries to clean up the messed-up situation left him by the preceding administration.

ing the end of knowledge, is a challenge to prove that knowledge exists.

Everything is faster and stronger but people. The human race, if it's improvable, will have to hustle to catch up to where it should be. As of now, it's 10,000 years behind and off the pace.

Instead of breaking through supersonic barriers and exploding into atoms, what men need to do is break through ignorance and explode prejudices.

Why doesn't the government appropriate a billion dollars for that?

From Whom All Blessings Flow

Security Risks In The U.N.

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

Men do not get jobs in high places without being recommended. Someone opens the door for them.

In the case of Americans employed by the United Nations, someone got the jobs for them; someone screened them from the standpoint of security.

The reason that Adrian S. Fisher, legal adviser to the State Department, has been called before the federal grand jury in New York and the McCarran committee is because it was assumed that he, as the law officer of the State Department, could tell how this is done.

Also called were John D. Hickerson, assistant secretary of state for U.N. affairs and Carlisle H. Humelsine, deputy under secretary for administration.

The United Nations employs a large staff of all types of administrators, heads of departments, down to janitors and caretakers. Some of these persons come in by examination on a kind of civil service.

Others are hired because of their reputations and known skills. They represent many nations and speak of themselves as international officials.

THERE SEEMS to be a quota system, so many allotted to each country to prevent any one country from having a monopoly. All countries, except the United States, can control their own personnel in the United Nations by simple passport arrangements. In a word, if they do not want a man or woman to be employed by the United Nations, no passport is granted.

On the other hand, because the United Nations is situated in New York, no American needs a passport to go to the United Nations. Therefore, this device is available to every member state of the United Nations except the United States.

All Russians, Poles, Ukrainians, and others of the satellite groups who are employed in the United Nations are directly appointed by their own delegations.

A few old-time anti-Communist Czechs remain and that is often used as an exhibit of freedom from control.

The State Department, however, maintains that it does not appoint Americans; in fact, it insists that it keeps its hand off such matters.

HOW DOES it happen that so many in the bigger jobs have formerly been employed in one department or other of the government of the United States, and some of them, by the State Department?

How does it happen that many who were fired from our government as security risks, found their way into the United Nations? Who opened the door for them?

Further, it has been stated to those seeking to discover the facts that if the United Nations requires security information from any government, it is possible to get the facts officially in a very short time, perhaps within a fortnight.

The return of requested data from the State Department is always delayed. Why the delay? Who is responsible for the delay?

EVEN NOW, after Trygve Lie has dismissed 18 Americans who have demonstrated that they are security risks, the State Department remains non-cooperative with the McCarran committee which has not been witch-hunting in any respect, but has caught the subversive devils red-handed, some of them fearing to testify as to whether they have engaged in espionage lest they incriminate themselves.

The McCarran committee will continue its investigation after Gen. Eisenhower has become president of the United States.

Sen. William Langer, who will head the Judiciary Committee, has already announced that this will be the policy of his committee.

Sen. Homer Ferguson will be in charge of the sub-committee investigating subversion.

SEN. FERGUSON, having a logical mind, is bound to ask the questions herein outlined. Otherwise, the investigation makes no sense. True, there is some excitement in discovering Americans in the United Nations who will not speak about espionage without fearing that they will incriminate themselves. But that is not enough.

From the standpoint of a legislative committee, what is important is not to "get anybody, but rather to find the process by which the security of the country is imperilled and to pass legislation plugging up the holes.

The attitude of the State Department has thus far been to run interference for the subversives. This question may roll over into Sen. Wiley's Committee on Foreign Relations, which supervises the State Department, and Sen. McCarthy's Committee on Executive Expenditures.

With these committees cooperating to get at the process, the State Department will ultimately be forced to disclose the truth, no matter who is involved and how long it takes.

The Doctor Answers

Great numbers of letters have been received by this column from unhappy women who desire some information on any methods which could be used to increase the size of the bust. A typical one follows:

Q—My bust is no larger today at the age of 31 and with five children than it was when I was 13 or 14 years old. Can anything be done to develop the breast to more womanly proportions?—Mrs. B.

A—The plumpness and consequently, the size of the breast lies in the fat contained therein. Just why some should contain more fat than others is not clear, though heredity may play a part.

There is apparently no scientific evidence that any cream or external application, nor that any device for irritating or massaging the breast will cause any increased amount of fat to be deposited. At least one "bust developer" was the subject of post office fraud order issued several years ago.

Q—My mother, who is 82 and apparently in good health, suffers from burning feet. Can you suggest any possible cause?

A—In the absence of any signs of local inflammation or disease, one would suspect—in a case of this sort—sensitivity of the skin, either to nylon stockings or some chemical substance present in her shoes. This is not a diagnosis, but a suggestion.

Q—Since early adolescence I have been troubled with oily skin. I am now 21 but my skin is still the same and I wonder what can be done for this?—G. T.

A—It is possible that astringent lotions or some similar local treatment to the skin might be of help.

At any rate, a skin specialist could inform you what could be done in this way. It is also possible that cold baths, exposure to sunlight, or exercise would be helpful.

Q—I recently discovered that I had a hernia of the diaphragm, but have been advised against operation because of my age, which is 64. What do you think?—Mrs. H.B.

A—If the symptoms are not too severe or too frequent your doctor's advice should certainly be followed, although a large number of people have been successfully operated for diaphragmatic hernia who are even older.

Q—What could cause my 17-year-old son to have diarrhea several times a week?—Mrs. W. O.

A—It could be some form of dysentery such as amoebic dysentery. It could be some dietary indiscretion; it could be that he has spastic colon and no doubt there are other possibilities. A symptom of this sort, however, should not be ignored and an effort should be made, if it is long-continued, to find out what the cause really is.

Questions and Answers

Q—From what kind of tree or plant is the spice known as mace derived?

A—From the covering of the nutmeg.

Q—Why is a self-indulgent person referred to as a Sybarite?

A—Inhabitants of ancient Sybaris, a Greek city in southern Italy, were noted for their luxurious living and self-indulgence.

Q—Why do some flowers have a disagreeable odor?

A—To attract pollen-carrying insects which feed on decaying matter.

Operation By Video

The scene is a hospital. The American Medical Association is permitting the telecast of another in its series of TV operations. There is much confusion due to the fact everybody is struggling to get into the act, except the patient.

Announcer—Through the miracle of television, ladies and gentlemen, you are about to see a plastic surgery operation in which the flabby flesh constituting double chins. . . .

Patient—Just a minute doc.

Surgeon—Oh, so sorry! You're the appendix case. How did you get here at this time?

Patient—Careless programming. But you may go ahead with me if you wish.

Surgeon—No, you're not on until our early January show.

Announcer—There has been a mistake, ladies and gentlemen, and . . .

Nurse—This is a fine program on which to admit mistakes!

Announcer—We shall proceed with our scheduled operation, but first a word from our sponsor.

Second Patient (who has been hurriedly wheeled on).—Can I do it now?

Surgeon—What?

Second Patient—Wave at my husband. I promised him I would.

Surgeon—Don't you realize this is a very serious situation calling for extreme quiet and calm?

Second Patient with a look at all the cameras, announcers, directors, etc.—Yeah, but I was wondering if you realized it.

Nurse—You mustn't sit up and wave. It can upset you.

Second Patient—If I don't wave it will upset my husband and all my friends out there looking on.

Surgeon (as she struggles)—Oh, very well. You can wave but you will have to wait. There are five waves ahead of you. I wave, my assistant waves, the two nurses wave and, of course, there's a wave from the American Medical Association.

Second Patient—I get so deep in the waves that I become an immersion case. Where's Arthur Godfrey?

Surgeon—What would he be doing here?

Second Patient—He's always scouting new acts!

A Third Patient (rushing into the act)—Go ahead, doc. I'm the ulcer case!

Surgeon—You've already had two operations this season, do you wish to go for three?

Third Patient—Video is video!

Surgeon—You're not on yet.

Third Patient—I thought I heard my cue.

Announcer (as mixed up as everybody else)—And now, folks, introducing that wonderful, that talented, that really colossal personality . . . one of the truly great medical cases in show business . . . a performer upon whom we have been happy to operate on this program before, and who has gone on to become one of the most celebrated scarred-tissue cases in the amusement world. . . .

A Nurse—You've got the wrong case again. That's not on until next Tuesday. Everything is pretty chaotic. The surgeons huddle. The cry of an infant is heard. Ben Grauer hurries past carrying a rattle.

Mr. Grauer—It's a boy!

Surgeon—Don't be silly. We did that show two weeks ago!

It is our belief the atom bomb can be more effective if made of a martini base instead of uranium.

Bowling Group Holds Party In Lisbon

The American Legion home in Lisbon was the scene of the Christmas party and gift exchange when approximately 140 members of the Salem Woman's Bowling Association met Tuesday evening. Members were present from Salem, Lisbon, Leetonia, Columbiana, East Palestine, Washingtonville and North Lima.

Mrs. James Hyink of Lisbon was chairman of the decorating committee. Other Lisbon members assisted. Table decorations of winter scenes, Christmas trees, reindeer, candles and familiar Christmas characters, such as "Frosty" and "Santa Claus," provided the seasonal atmosphere.

The Ranch girls, with Mrs. Harold Hofmaster as chairman, were in charge of entertainment which included amusing skits and singing of novelty numbers. A solo, trio and group singing were also enjoyed by the group.

The evening was concluded after "Santa" appeared and distributed gifts to each member. The next meeting will be held just prior to the city tournament.

Couple Observes 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Fife of New Garden celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a dinner party Wednesday evening.

Dinner guests included Rev. and Mrs. Fred Cochran and children, Jane Ann and Tommy, of Millport. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brice of Greenville, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walton and children, Homer, Wayne and Kathleen of Salem.

Mrs. Brice and Mrs. Walton are daughters of the couple. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Copeland of Hanover were guests during the evening.

The table was laid with a gold linen cloth centered with a tiered wedding cake baked by Mrs. Brice. The cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Gold candles in crystal holders surrounded by yellow mums and green foliage completed the setting.

Family pictures were taken during the evening. The couple received many cards and beautiful flowers from friends and relatives. Mrs. Fife wore a yellow rose corsage given to her by Mr. and Mrs. Brice.

Harvey Fife and the former Miss Edna Brown were married Dec. 11, 1902 at Millport by Rev. James F. Kirkbride, then pastor of the Bethesda Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Davis gave a talk on "Mary's Journey from Nazareth to Bethlehem." Mrs. Ernest Stokessberry played piano numbers of Christmas songs. Other piano numbers were "Etude" and "Christmas Medleys" by Miss Dixie Lee Wide, and "Rudolph the Red Nose Reindeer" and "Star" by Miss Srar Ann Wilde.

A gift exchange was included in the program. The party and program were in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Burcaw, Mrs. Matilda Miller, Mr. and Mrs. George Dressei and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McKee.

Birthday Party Honors Miss Shirley Blythe

Miss Shirley Blythe, student nurse at Salem City Hospital was honored recently at a birthday gathering at her home on Woodland Ave. This was a memorable day for Shirley since her birth date was also "Pearl Harbor Day." She also received her nursing cap at ceremonies held on the day.

A birthday cake with "Happy Birthday Shirley," decorated the refreshment table where lunch was served by her mother, Mrs. Donald Blythe, assisted by her sister Becky Jane.

Television provided entertainment for an informal evening. Shirley received gifts.

Schools Plan Track Meet

Knights Of Pythias Elect Officers

COLUMBIANA—A proposal for a track meet of the Inter-County Athletic League of six schools in Columbiana, Mahoning and Trumbull counties will be presented at the spring meeting of the league officials March 26. The preliminary announcement was made by Waldo Ward, faculty manager of Columbiana school athletics, at the winter meeting of the league officials at Heck's restaurant here Thursday evening, to give school authorities time to ponder the idea.

Representatives of the six schools, Columbiana, New Springfield, North Lima, Canfield, Lowellville and McDonald, were present at the meeting Thursday evening, presided over by the president, Columbiana Superintendent D. W. Bailey. McDonald won the league football honors this fall and received the award of the winner's permanent trophy and the annual rotating trophy. Columbiana Principal Gayl Gloss is secretary-treasurer of the league.

Columbiana Lodge, Knight of Pythias, elected Thursday evening for installation a J.N. 8, these officers: Jesse Terrence, chancellor; William Allen, vice chancellor; William Stockman, prelate; H. D. Kurtz master-at-arms; Robert Chesnut, inner guard; Don Kurtz, outer guard; Louis Kramer, secretary; Harry Harmon, master of finance; Harvey Hisey, treasurer; H. D. Kurtz, trustee for three years. The Pythian lodge quarters in the Union Bank building have undergone extensive changes in connection with the remodeling of the building, which is nearing completion.

MEMBERS OF the Ladies' Auxiliary of Clipper Aeire, F.O.E., will have their husbands as guests at their Christmas party in the Eagles' home next Tuesday evening. A Christmas lunch will be served and there will be a $1 gift exchange.

The vocal music department of the Columbiana schools will present a pageant in the High School auditorium at 4 p.m. Sunday, under the direction of Mrs. Jean Ralph Snow, instructor of vocal music in the schools. Groups from all grades through the High School will take part in the program. Janet Reinher, High School senior, will be narrator, and Judy Maurer and Ann Moorehead, accompanists.

Rev. Howard Hammer of Apple Creek held the first of a series of evangelistic meetings Friday evening at Midway Mennonite Church on Route 46 between Columbiana and Canfield. The meetings will continue at 7:45 p.m. week nights and 10:30 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sundays through Sunday, Dec. 21.

Chairman Mark Klingensmith of the Christmas seal sale for Columbiana village and Fairfield township reports another $1,000 needed to reach the quota of $2,340.

REV. DONALD J. Voelm of Grace and Evangelical and Reform Church will be the speaker at the December meeting and Christmas party of the Columbiana Mothers' Club at the home of Mrs. George Keller, 433 Firestone Ave., at 8:30 p.m. Monday. Members are each to take a white gift for a needy family, and there will be a 50 cent gift exchange. Mrs. Willard Ferrall will be co-hostess.

The Columbiana Youngs will play the Mullins team of Salem in Columbiana High School gym next Wednesday evening.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of York Drexler Post, V.F.W., sent a Christmas box to Bracksville Hospital this week. Its Christmas party is set for next Friday evening.

Members of Pandora Relekeh

Lodge will have their Christmas at their temporary meeting place in the High School at 8 p.m. Monday, members to take table service and poke lunch. There will be a gift exchange.

The Columbiana postoffice will be open all day today and next Saturday, Dec. 20, to help take care of the holiday volume of mail.

Columbus Water Main Break Closes Schools

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Schools in the village of Gahanna near Columbus closed today because a Columbus water main broke, creating a critical water shortage on the state capital's east side.

City officials said the break should be repaired by mid-day. Many homes in Gahanna, five miles northeast of Columbus, were without water. Gahanna and a section in the far east side were the only areas still without water today.

The shutdown of Gahanna schools affected about 1,200 students. Government officials at Port Columbus turned off a valve that controls supplies of water to Gahanna in order to conserve water for the Port Columbus Naval Air Base and the North American Aviation Inc. sprawling plant nearby, a waterworks official said.

A trickle was still getting through to downtown Gahanna but residences on higher ground went without.

A four-inch crack suddenly developed in the main Thursday at 2 p.m. Workmen in a seven-foot ditch nearly were drowned.

Ohio May Get Network Of Educational TV

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Ohio soon may have a network of educational television stations which can potentially reach into any home in the state with a TV set.

The network is proposed in a report adopted Friday by the Ohio Program Commission. It would tie in five state universities, Ohio State, Kent, Bowling Green, Miami and Ohio University, educational TV stations in Cleveland and Cincinnati and—possibly later—private schools which wish to participate.

Commission chairman, State Sen. Roscoe R. Walcutt, hailed educational television as possibly "the greatest single development in mass education since public schools were established."

The network is designed to take advantage of ultra-high frequency channels reserved for educational television by the Federal Communications Commission.

Atomic Plant Supply Firm Strike Ended

DUNKIRK, N. Y. (AP)—The American Locomotive Co. planned to resume production of atomic energy supplies at its plant here today after a federal judge issued a Taft-Hartley injunction ordering an end to a 107-day strike of CIO steelworkers.

Company and union officials promised quick cooperation with the order issued in Buffalo District Court Friday by Judge John Knight.

But the union said it would fight the injunction in court.

The government said nickel pipe plate made at the plant was needed at atomic energy projects in Savannah River, Ga., Paducah, Ky., and Pike County, Ohio.

The 1,500 workers struck Aug. 29, demanding a pay boost of 26 cents an hour and other benefits. They rejected the company's last public offer of 12½ cents. The old pay scales run from $1.21 to $2.01.

TAX RECEIPTS DROP

The sale of prepaid tax receipts in Columbiana County for the week ending Nov. 29 shows a drop of more than $2,000 as compared to the sales recorded for the corresponding period last year.

Sales for the week this year were $34,871.67, as against $36,929.82 in 1951.

ROKs Storm Up Little Nori Hill

Heights Pounded By Allied Planes, Guns

SEOUL (AP)—Tough little South Korean troops today stormed to the top of Little Nori Hill lost more than two days ago, drove off Red remnants, then stuck there stubbornly under steady pounding from Communist guns and infantry assaults.

Other Republic of Korea soldiers attacked Reds on Big Nori, some 300 yards to the north.

Both Western Front hills, gateposts on the traditional northern invasion route to this old capital, were grabbed by Communists in swift attacks early Thursday. They are on the Imjin River about 40 miles north of Seoul.

The drive up steep, frozen Little Nori was the 10th countersmash by the ROKs. It turned out to be the sixth time the peak has changed hands since the Chinese picked it as the scene for their latest small-scale offensive.

The Nori fighting, reminiscent of the hot battles on Sniper Ridge and Triangle Hill in Central Korea a month ago, has cost the Reds an estimated 1,100 dead, wounded and captured.

The estimate did not include Red losses today, or the toll taken by artillery and planes pounding the Communist staging areas immediately behind the two Noris.

The weary ROKs reached the crest of Little Nori about 10 a.m. today.

They went up behind a savage Allied air and artillery pounding of the peak. Their first act was to kick off the remnants of Reds who had rolled them back down the hill nine times previously.

A U. S. military adviser to the ROKs called them "the toughest little soldiers in the world."

Reds renewed their assaults within a few hours after the wily South Koreans reached Little Nori's crest. Under heavy fire, ROK engineers attempted to set up portable log bunkers and string barbed wire to make the peak defensible.

The ROKs had the support of Allied artillery and U. S. Patton tanks on the slope of Little Nori, the closest tanks had come to the front in the battle.

Livid flames and billows of black smoke rose from Red positions under attack on a clockwork schedule by Allied warplanes.

A ROK adviser said the Chinese have fired some 25,000 rounds of artillery in the battle and that U.N. guns may have outshot the Reds throughout.

The rest of the snow-spotted battlefield was relatively quiet.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said its planes destroyed 120 Red trucks moving toward the front last night—most of them on roads south of Pyongyang, North Korean Red capital.

The Air Force also said four Allied planes went down over North Korea in the past week, but not one in air battles with Red MIG15 jets. Sabre jets shot down 10 MIGs during the period, probably destroyed one and damaged one.

Efficiency Christmas

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—There are many ways to look at Christmas.

Christmas is an industry for some people, a holiday for others just another day in the year to a bitter few. But for most of us Christmas is a time of spiritual thaw, a period when we melt the barnacles off our heart with the warmth of loving-kindness.

However anyone looks at Christmas, cynically or sentimentally, I can respect his view of it. Except in one case. I simply cannot understand anyone who treats Christmas like a surgical operation.

These are the people who, as the G. I. phrase goes, "already got it made." They don't fret about the last-minute shopping expedition for the friend they forgot to remember, because they just don't forget anything. They're the careful type who organize Christmas like a scientist conducting an experiment.

They bought their Christmas cards sometime last January, addressed them during their summer vacation, and mailed them the day after Thanksgiving. The Christmas presents they plan to give this month were purchased at last spring's bargain sales and were trundled to the post-office by the first of December.

"You mean you haven't even begun your Christmas shopping?" they say now contemptuously to friends.

Somewhat this attitude riles me. I don't feel these people even know what Christmas is, and certainly I doubt that they have any real belief in Santa Claus.

To them Christmas is a calculated thing, and their biggest satisfaction is that of knowing they have done everything that could be reasonably expected of them in an exactly proper manner.

Is that Christmas? Not to my mind. Christmas must have a kindling spontaneity to it or it isn't Christmas at all. A guy who does not have to buck the shopping crowds an hour before the department stores close misses half the fun. What's wrong with suddenly deciding at the last minute that there is still one more person you'd like to buy a gift for?

Nobody ought to have his friendships indexed and priced like items in a mail order catalog. The person who over-organizes Christmas is embarrassed if he receives a card from someone he overlooked, so he promptly mails him a happy new year card, and then feels smugly virtuous. But that isn't the spirit of giving—it is simply trading.

Essentially, I suppose, these people who order their Christmas trees on the Fourth of July are a sad lot, too joylessly precise ever to feel the deep tidal pull that sweeps most hearts at this season.

Give me the little guy who goes home in a bus on Christmas eve loaded with bundles bought at the last possible moment. He may be a bit thoughtless, but in his eyes glows a true Christmas happiness. He at least bought his presents because he wanted to, not because he felt he had to, and there is no icicle in his soul.

Official Sees Liquor Sale Banned On 'Pike

CLEVELAND (AP)—An Ohio Turnpike commissioner predicts no liquor will be sold along the state's new 'superhighway.'

Dr. J. Gordon McKay said that Friday while talking about the highway before the Ohio Hotels Association's 58th annual convention.

He said liquor would create a hazard and added, "it is because of that hazard that I am sure liquor will be banned."

The Saar has a population of about 900 per square mile.

Lincoln Electric Gives $5 Million Yule Bonuses

CLEVELAND (AP)—The 1,208 Lincoln Electric Co. employees today started figuring how to spend or save their annual bonuses. They average $4,240 a person.

James F. Lincoln, president of the electric welding equipment firm, said the 19th annual incentive pay bonuses totaled $5,131,810—a record.

Checks varied depending on what the company called the contribution made to the success of the firm.

Another $498,000 was set aside for retirement annuities.

Quakers Lose Opener ,62-46, To Undeclared Columbian

Salem Falter In Last Period After Strong Rally In Third; Buckman Gets 17 For Quakers

By SANDY HANSELL

Falling apart defensively in the last quarter, the Salem Quakers lost their first game of the 1952-53 season Friday night going down to defeat at the hands of the powerful, undefeated Columbian Clippers, 62-46, in the Columbian gym.

Facing a 12-point deficit, 31-19, at the end of the first half, the Quakers poured it on, scoring ten consecutive points to start the third period before the Clippers were able to rally.

Ed Votaw started things buzzing with a neat corner shot, Larry Stoffer followed with a bunny and lucky breaks to throw the game in their favor just wasn't there. Alexander collected his fourth personal foul with three minutes left in the third quarter and Stoffer picked up his fourth with only 1:05 remaining in the third.

Votaw committed his third personal shortly after the last period started and, with three men playing with the handicap of four fouls against them, the Quakers found themselves up against the wall.

Stoffer fouled out with 5:20 gone and Votaw exited after committing his fifth foul with 2:05 left. Columbian scored almost all in the last minutes when Salem's play became disorganized and ragged.

SALEM INDICATED in the last part of the second period and during the third that it has the makings of a top-notch ball club. Overall, the team rebounding was not what it should have been, but, on the other hand, Alexander, although some three inches shorter, did a creditable job holding down the rangy Gilchrist.

The ball-handling was at times sloppy and the Quakers gave away several chances to score with erratic passing. The shooting was not quite up to par, especially from underneath the basket.

Several easy shots were missed that should have been made from within ten feet. However, the shooting percentage on the night was not too bad, 18 baskets in 57 shots for a 31 percent.

Columbian had a good fast break that caused trouble, but the locals' switching man-for-man defense was usually effective, forcing the Clippers to shoot plenty of longs.

HOWEVER, COLUMBIANA was hitting its long and that made the difference. Especially outstanding was the shooting of John Case, who came through with crucial baskets as the Quakers were threatening in the second half to keep the game under control.

Coach John Cabas was somewhat disappointed in the play of Jack Gottschling. Gottschling, expected to spark the locals this season, had a bad night from the field and his overall play was not up to par.

The find of the night was little Harry Baird, 5 foot 8 inch sophomore. Baird, scoring 18 points in the Reserve game and four during two brief stints in the varsity clash, had the crowd buzzing with his accurate shooting.

IN ALL, THE NIGHT was not too disappointing. The play of Buckman, particularly his running push shots from out beyond the keyhole, sparkled, while Votaw, somewhat off his game, still managed to score 10 points in addition to playing a finer floor game.

The two pivotmen, Alexander and Stoffer showed plenty of promise. With a little more experience, both Stoffer and Alexander will be able to hold their own with any ball club.

It seems to be a matter of just waiting four of five ball games for the team to jell and the younger players to develop. The consensus of most Salem fans who followed the team appeared to be one of optimism.

Baugh, Albert To End Careers

Browns, Lions, Rams Seek Playoff Slots

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sammy Baugh and Frankie Albert, two of the game's all-time greats, call it a career Sunday while three teams battle it out for National Football League playoff spots.

Playoffs berths in both the American and National Conferences are at stake. Cleveland's perennial champion Browns can wrap up the American title with a triumph over the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds.

The National Conference crown lies between the Detroit Lions and Los Angeles Rams. The Lions can take a half game edge over the Rams when they clash with the homeless Dallas Texans today. The Texans have won only one game in 11 starts. The Rams entertain the tough Pittsburgh Steelers Sunday.

Cleveland, which never has lost a conference title in six years while operating in the defunct All-American Conference and the National League, needs only a victory or a tie to make it seven straight.

The Philadelphia Eagles are the only team which has a chance to catch the Browns. The Eagles can tie the Browns for the brass ring by beating the Washington Redskins while the Giants upset Cleveland.

In the event both races wind up deadlocked the Eagles and Browns will meet in Philadelphia next Sunday and the Rams and Lions in Detroit. Should both races be decided the championship playoff will be staged at Cleveland Dec. 21.

Baugh, a Washington landmark, will make his final appearance for the Redskins in the game against the Eagles at Washington. Albert hangs up his cleats at San Francisco where his 49ers entertain the Green Bay Packers. In the only other game the Bears and Cardinals tangle in Chicago.

The powerful Browns will meet a battered and bruised Giant team at the Polo Grounds but the legions of Coach Paul Brown are not anticipating a picnic.

Since the Browns joined the National League three years ago there hasn't been a more bitter rivalry than that between Cleveland and New York.

Otto Graham will lead Cleveland's star-spangled crew. The former Northwestern All-America has passed for 2,537 yards and 18 touchdowns. The running will be taken care of by Marion Motley, Ken Carpenter, Dub Jones and Harry Jagade. If both the air-arm and ground attack fizzle, the Browns will fall back on Lou Groza and his million dollar toe. Groza has kicked a record 17 field goals so far.

The invalid Giants base their hopes of an upset on Tom Landry, a defensive back pressed into service as a quarterback. Chuck Conery, the regular signal caller, nursing a bad shoulder, may play. Ed Price, star Giant fullback, says he will play despite a hip injury.

Fairfield Defeats Augusta 74 To 46

Fairfield cagers chalked up their third win last night on their home court, beating Augusta 74-46.

Fairfield forged into an early lead and was never threatened. Ronnie Graham set the pace for the winners with 24 points. Russ Locke accounted for 14 points for Augusta.

The Fairfield Reserves won, 44-31. Fairfield's next game is Tuesday at Leetonia.

NCAA's Efforts To Restrict College Sports Take Effect

NEW YORK (AP)—The efforts of the National Collegiate AA, the American Council on Education and other groups to find a sane and scholastically sound solution to the problems of recruiting and subsidizing athletes are beginning to take effect.

The changes may be slow and in some cases so small as to be almost invisible, but the replies of 163 sports writers and broadcasters to the Associated Press post-season questionnaire indicate

Reserves Drop 51-44 Contest To Clippers

Suffering from inexperience, the Salem Reserves lost their opening game of the season last night at Columbian, 51-44, to the Clipper underdogs in a hard-fought battle.

With the spacious gym somewhat frustrating them, the locals could never completely relax and loosen up. They fell behind at the opening whistle and stayed there, but not before giving the Clipper rooters some anxious moments in the second half.

The Quakers had a rough time getting started, finding themselves 14 points behind in the first period. They held their own in the second quarter, but trailed at halftime, 27-13.

Then, with Harry Baird and Jerry Myers sparking the attack, the Quakers started putting the heat on the Clippers.

The third period saw them only ten points back 40-30 and at one stage of the fourth quarter were only six points back but at this stage, Dale Middeker and Ken Bosu fouled out of the game putting to an end any hopes of winning.

Baird was high for the night, meshing 18 markers with some deadly shooting from out around the keyhole. Myers, playing a good game under the boards, meshed nine points to take second honors, all in the second half to aid the rally.

Middeker got all of his six points at the beginning of the third period to ignite the rally that almost brought victory.

Ray Burkhardt and Hubert Keylor, netting 15 points each, paced the Clippers.

Goshen Cagers Win Third Of Season

Goshen tilted the win-loss record in its favor Friday night by besting Berlin Center cagers by a score of 61 to 55. Goshen has now won three out of five games played.

Carson McNeely was the high scorer for Goshen with 18 points. Bates and Young paced the losers with 23 and 18 points, respectively.

Goshen held a seven point advantage at the end of the half, increased it to 10 at the three-quarter mark and successfully defended a last minute rally by Berlin Center in the last period.

Tuesday, Goshen will play a home game against Greenford. Goshen's reserves won a 31-25 victory over their Berlin Center opponents Friday.

The rundown of the varsity game follows:

Saxton-Perez Fight Probed

1st Round KO Brings Matchmaking Study

NEW YORK (AP)—The boxing director of the International Boxing Club was asked to appear at the New York State Athletic Commission Monday to discuss future matchmaking policy after last night's one-round knockout win by Johnny Saxton at Madison Square Garden.

Harry Markson, IBC official, was asked to come down to the commission by Chairman Bob Christenberry, who watched at ringside when Cuban Raul Perez was counted out in 2:54 of the first round after taking a right-left combination to the body.

And the state chairman also wants to know who in his own organization approved the Saxton-Perez match. He said after the fight he would seek that information Monday.

Christenberry said he had been assured by Dr. Ira McCown and Dr. Alexander Schiff that Saxton's blows caused sufficient pain to cause a knockout.

The 26-year-old Cuban crumpled unexpectedly and collapsed near the ropes without warning. Saxton had thrown a right to the body and then followed with a left hook.

Dr. McCown, who examined Perez in the dressing room, said the left was a solar plexus punch that caused a "mild abdominal trauma." The fighter quickly recovered.

Saxton, winner of 34 straight pro fights, just can't seem to make a big hit in his home town. He was involved in two unsatisfactory fights with Livio Minelli and Lester Felton last winter, winning both.

Perez, a 5-1 underdog, simply collapsed completely before Saxton hardly got warmed up in his latest outing.

The small gathering of 3,686, paying $11.264 and the much larger network television audience, saw very little action until the sudden ending.

Dr. Vincent Nardiello of the commission examined the stricken Perez in the ring and said he was "sort of paralyzed."

Saxton's camp said they were working on a return bout with Ralph (Tiger) Jones of Yonkers, N. Y., who lost a split decision to N. Y., who lost a split decision to Saxton at St. Nicholas Arena Oct. 3. They were talking about Milwaukee and Dec. 29, but nothing definite.

Club To Hold Shoot
The Salem Hunting Club will hold a turkey and chicken shoot Sunday at 1 p.m. at the club grounds, east of the Salem Country Club on the Damascus Rd. The public is invited. Ammunition will be furnished.

Leetonia Drops 4th To N. Lima, 40-29
LEETONIA—The Leetonia High School basketball team suffered its fourth loss in as many starts here last night, bowing to North Lima 40-29.

North Lima ran up a 14-6 lead in the opening period with Vanbelt and Yoho setting the pace for the winners with 17 and 14 points, respectively. North Lima held a 31-12 points margin at halftime.

Harry Davidson sparked the Leetonia offense with 12 points. Guido had eight.

The Leetonia Reserves won 34-21.

NORTH LIMA - 40

Junior High Beats Columbian, 27-15

The Salem Junior High squad, leading all the way, racked up the only victory for a Salem team at Columbian last night, topping the Clipper Juniors, 27-15.

The locals, coached by Joe Boone, registered their second consecutive victory of the season in a preliminary contest before the Varsity and Reserve squads took the floor.

Johnny Stephenson lead the way for Salem, meshing six markers. The little Quakers were never pressed from the opening whistle, breaking away from a 2-all tie at the beginning of the game to widen the gap to 6-2 at the first quarter and 12-4 at the half.

With the Reserves playing most of the last half, the score mounted as the Quakers clearly outclassed their rivals.

Sam Gilchrist, lanky center, paced the little Clippers with 11 points. SALEM - 27

Rio Grande Wins; Francis Dumps In 72

RIO GRANDE, O. (AP)—Little Rio Grande College and its towering center, Bevo Francis, both specialists in high scoring, hung up enervating marks Friday night in whipping California State Teachers of Pennsylvania, 105-73.

For Rio Grande, it was the 11th victory without a loss and sustained the squad's average of more than 100 points per game.

For Francis, an All-Ohio high school choice from last year, it was an amazing individual performance. The 6-9 freshman flipped in 72 points on 27 fielders and 18 free throws.

The 72 points—just 13 points shy of the college scoring record held by Paul Arizin, ex-Villanova star—gave Bevo 499 points in 11 games for an average of better than 45 points per game.

WILL HOLD UP TV PLANS

NEW YORK (AP)—Members of the Eastern College Athletic Conference will refrain from making any definite television commitments and contracts until the NCAA plan for 1953 is mapped out and accepted.

HEADWORK—Dick Campbell of Manchester City used his head going high in the air to bounce the ball into the goal and tie Arsenal, 1-1, in a soccer match in London.

Baltimore Moves Step Toward Team In NFL

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimore seemingly moved another notch toward a professional football team again today with the announcement that 6,907 season tickets have been sold in the first five days of the drive.

The goal of 15,000 ticket sales by Jan. 22 would assure Baltimore of the Dallas franchise in the National Football League.

Easter Becomes Boss

CLEVELAND (AP)—When Luke Easter saw Indians General Manager Hank Greenberg Friday, Hank asked if he'd like to talk contract.

The big first baseman asked when the Indians' stockholders meeting was to be held, the one that will determine who the bosses will be.

Hank answered next Thursday. Luke replied: "I'll see you Friday."

Greenford Loses To New Waterford

Greenford cagers went down to their fifth defeat in six games Friday night when they lost to New Waterford by a score of 55 to 80 in a game played at Greenford.

Wynn Hawkins led the opponents' attack with a 35-point total. Bruce Feicht was high scorer for Greenford by sinking 16 points.

New Waterford jumped off to an 11-point lead in the first period and led at halftime 41-20. Each side scored 15 points in the third period, with New Waterford increasing its lead by four in the last quarter.

Greenford plays Goshen next at Goshen Dec. 16.

The Goshen reserves won out over their opponents in the tilt last night, 46 to 40.

Complete scores of the varsity game follows:

GREENFORD — 55
Feicht, 6-4-16; Cibula, 3-3-9; Witmer, 4-2-10; Hendricks, 4-0-8; Ferguson, 3-0-6; Beck, 2-1-3; Hunter, 0-1-1.

Southeast Conference Agrees On Bowl Funds

ATLANTA (AP)—With a division of bowl proceeds agreed upon, Southeast Conference officials today tackled the controversial issue of freshman eligibility.

The present rule permitting freshmen to engage in varsity sports expires before the next football season rolls around. Most coaches and athletic directors have been urging an extension, and the final vote of the power-wielding school presidents was expected to be very close.

The presidents voted Friday to put an $85,000 ceiling on the amount an SEC school may keep for a bowl appearance, but they tabled efforts to change the 140 athletic scholarship limitation and the 30-freshman rule.

Oklahoma May Join Southwest Conference

DALAS (AP)—Oklahoma, in a conference that bans bowl games and in an association of schools that frowns on athletic subsidization, is seeking a return to the Southwest Conference of which it was a charter member.

Walter Kraft, Oklahoma's faculty representative, visited the Southwest Conference Faculty Committee meeting here Friday and made a preliminary investigation of the possibility of rejoining the Southwest Conference "sometime in the future."

7th Annual Cigar Bowl To Be Played Tonight

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—The seventh annual Cigar Bowl football game here tonight shapes up a duel between Tampa's passing and Lenoir-Rhyne's running.

The constant threat of quarterback Bill Minehan's long and short tosses has been Tampa's ace in the hole all season.

Lenoir Rhyne has emphasized the smashing of Steve Trudnal, Little All-America fullback, and the dazzling swiftness of the Robinson twins, Gene and Jerry, at the halves.

Wholesale Price Index Drops .4 Of 1 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lower prices for cattle, lambs, live poultry and cotton and sharper drops in eggs and some fruits and vegetables pulled government-measured wholesale prices down four-tenths of 1 per cent during the week ended last Tuesday.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said yesterday the over-all drop in wholesale prices was due mainly to a 2 1/2 per cent decline in farm products.

The bureau said its index of prices dropped to 190.6 per cent of the 1947-49 average.

Shooting Barrage Wounds 2 Robbers

CLEVELAND (AP)—A shooting barrage by neighbors and the son of a tavern keeper, during a $3,000 robbery Friday, wounded two men and led to the arrest of two other persons.

Mrs. Mary Wolinski, mother of the Wolinski tavern's owner, ran for help as three men held up a bartender.

Martin Drabek and his son Henry, called from a nearby shop, opened fire at the fleeing men. Mrs. Wolinski's son, Ray, heard the commotion, broke open a second story window and fired from there.

John Wilson 21, and Richard Morris, 22, were arrested when they went to a hospital and a doctor's office for medical aid. Wilson, in fair condition, was quoted by police as saying he did it "so my family would have a good Christmas." Morris was reported in good condition.

Police also arrested Mrs. Dorothy Lee Howard, sister of Morris, as the driver of a getaway car.

Another man, identified by patrolmen as Clarence Butler 25, was apprehended later as he entered his home.

The money still was missing today.

Blaze Sweeps 3-Story Block In Willoughby

WILLOUGHBY, O. (AP)—Volunteer firemen worked five hours this morning to bring under control a blaze that swept the three-story Simon block on Erie St. in the center of this Lake County village.

No one was injured. Unofficial estimates of damage indicated the loss might exceed $100,000.

The fire was reported to have started about 2:30 a. m. in a bar located in the basement of the building. The H. F. Simon Clothing Store, one of the town's oldest, and Sturm's Food Market were wrecked.

Twelve persons occupying apartments above the stores were evacuated.

Boy Starts Fire In Cleveland Apartment

CLEVELAND (AP)—The parents of Jerry Szalkowski, 5, were surprised to see him dash out the door calling out: "I won't come back. You'll hit me."

They understood when they looked in the clothes closet. It was on fire. Jerry had lighted a candle left over from Halloween. He was looking for something.

By the time the fire was extinguished, Battalion Chief Edward Partridge estimated damage to apartment and furnishings at $5,500.

Kensington

Harmony Class of the Christian Church will hold its Christmas party Tuesday evening, Dec. 16, with a covered dish dinner at 6:30. There'll be exchange of gifts.

Mrs. Bertha Clark and Mrs. Nora Roach attended the Methodist Church dedications at East Rochester Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Myers of East Liverpool were Kensington callers Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Whinnery and sons were Saturday visitors of Mrs. Nora Roach.

Mrs. Ella Woodward, who has been ill, is improving at the home of her daughter Mrs. Joseph Kibler.

Mr. and Mrs. Garner Patterson are at Mansfield where he is employed for awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Lautzenheiser and son have moved into their new home south of Kensington.

Lewis Noling, Herman Noling and Miss Helen Mae Noling were Salem shoppers Saturday.

Mrs. Dale Hayman and daughters of Mechanicstown were Friday visitors of Mrs. Nora Roach.

Ellsworth

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jones held open house at their new home in Ellsworth Sunday afternoon from 2 to 5 p. m. in honor of their 36th wedding anniversary.

Assisting them were their two daughters, Miss Bernita and Mrs. Robert L. Terry, and Mrs. Jones, sisters, Mrs. Leo Bardo of Sebring and Mrs. M. E. Wilson of Ellsworth. About 75 friends and relatives were received during the afternoon.

Lavender and white chrysanthemums and white candles lighted in crystal holders centered the buffet table. Colorful bouquets of red and white chrysanthemums decorated the living room. The couple received many cards and gifts.

Cold, Wet Weather Outlook For Area

By The Associated Press

Cold and wet weather was the outlook for northern and eastern parts of the country today from the Dakotas to the New England states. Mild weather for the season continued in the Far West.

Light snow fell over wide areas from the Ohio Valley northward and from the upper Mississippi Valley to the Eastern Great Lakes region.

Heavy snows and rain storms took the lives of 10 persons, mostly from highway accidents, in Northern New York and New England Friday. Power and telephone service was cut off in many parts of the storm belt.

Snow falls in Northern Vermont measured more than a foot while nearly four inches of rain pelted Southern and Central Maine and Northern New Hampshire.

IRONTON COUNCILMAN KILLED

CHILLICOTHE, O. (AP)—Cornelius Goldcamp, an Ironton city councilman, was killed Friday night on U.S. 23 north of here when he lost control of his car and it hit a bridge.

THE WEEK BEFORE CHRISTMAS
 (Why Not Now?)
 'Twas the week before Christmas
 When I looked at my car.
 It was an old model and
 Had been driven too far.
 The upholstery was ripped,
 The seat was torn,
 The brakes didn't work,
 And there'd been the horn.
 The windshield was busted,
 The clutch was broke,
 The gas line was clogged,
 And so was the choke.
 I cried and moaned
 And started to cuss,
 Something had to be done
 About the old bus.
 When I went to BARTHOLOMEWS!
 I was all awoe,
 His ad said I could get
 Much more for my dough.
 Now I laugh at the bumps,
 I get mileage galore.
 The car looks fine and
 Here's something more.
 I bought my car from BARTHOLOMEWS!
 OMEW on the E-Z Plan.
 My payments are small,
 And I'm a happy man!

Record Amount Of Money Now In Circulation In Nation

NEW YORK (P)—There's more money around than ever before. Whether you have your share or not, there's a record number of dollars in circulation—30,370,000,000 of them, the Federal Reserve Board reports.

Money in circulation jumped by 96 million dollars in the past week, it says, as Americans started their annual Christmas trek to the nation's stores. Money in circulation means U. S. currency not held in the banks or the reserve system, but presumably in the jeans of the citizens.

has spent most of his time playing golf, resting and trying to shake a cold.

He is expected to return to his Commodore Hotel headquarters in New York Monday to continue his work there—and there is a likelihood he will meet with Gen. Douglas MacArthur some time next week to hear MacArthur's views on Korea.

MacArthur recently implied he had a plan for peace in Korea. President Truman has said that if he has MacArthur should present it to him and not wait.

One source reported there already has been "some strain at the high level" between Eisenhower's liaison men—Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge (R-Mass.) and Joseph M. Dodge—and Truman's Cabinet members.

He said there had been no friction below the Cabinet level and added he did not think what friction there was would create any problem in the orderly transfer of government from Democratic to Republican control.

Herbert Hoover To Get Inauguration Honor

WASHINGTON (P)—Herbert Hoover will be sent a special invitation to a place of honor at the inauguration of President-elect Eisenhower Jan. 20.

The plan thus to pay homage to the last Republican to live in the White House and the nation's only living former president was announced at a news conference yesterday by Sen. Bridges (R-H). Bridges, chairman of a legislators' arrangements committee, said also that Vice President-elect Nixon will be sworn in at the same outdoor ceremony.

Almost everything else bearing the dollar sign is rising to a record, if seasonal, peak.

Bank loans to business continue to spiral upward. For the 14th straight week, leading New York banks have lent increasingly larger sums to businessmen, for an increase of one billion dollars since midyear.

The loans have been used by business, industry and agriculture to prepare for the Christmas trade, to move the crops, to finance the big fall spurt in industrial production.

To help the nation's banks get the funds that depositors want for their Christmas shopping and that businessmen want to finance trade and industry, the federal reserve system increased its discounts by 161 million dollars in the week to bring these bank borrowings to the highest level since July 1921.

The federal reserve also bought 271 million dollars more of U. S. Treasury securities. Some of these were sold to the system by the banks wanting to raise cash for their customers. Other securities were sold by corporations seeking cash to make their Dec. 15 tax payments.

Part of the great demand for dollars has come from business firms expanding their plants and buying equipment. Total debt of corporations has nearly doubled since the end of World War II and is now approaching 160 billion dollars.

New York banks report there is no sign yet of any let-up in the demand for businessmen for more money.

But the usual seasonal pattern is for bank loans to turn downwards after the first of the year.

Money in circulation starts trickling back into the banks after Christmas, also. Customers pay the merchants, who pay their suppliers, and they repay their bank loans.

It looks like the nation's biggest money Christmas—biggest in money passing from hand to hand and biggest in debts which Americans have yet to pay.

Wainwright Didn't Hear Of Provoos Disloyalty

NEW YORK (P)—Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright says he never heard of any disloyalty of John David Provoos when the two were prisoners of the Japanese after the fall of Corregidor in 1942.

Wainwright, now retired, testified Friday under subpoena as a defense witness in the federal court treason trial of Provoos, former American Army sergeant charged with going over to the Japanese while a prisoner of war.

Wainwright, left in command of American forces in the Philippines after Gen. Douglas MacArthur was transferred to Australia, spent two hours on the witness stand. His testimony was largely a review of events leading to Corregidor's fall.

Navy To Lay Keel Of Second Super Carrier

WASHINGTON (P)—The Navy will lay the keel of its second super-sized carrier at the Brooklyn Navy Yard Tuesday.

Secretary of the Navy Dan Kimball will preside over the traditional ceremony when a keel plate is lowered into place for the 60,000-ton carrier Saratoga.

She will be a sister ship of the carrier Forrestal, on which construction started at the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. in Virginia, last July.

Alliance Policeman Is Lodge President

Lieutenant Donald Cox of Alliance was elected president of Lodge 73, Fraternal Order of Police, in an election this week at a meeting in Alliance. He succeeds Patrolman Martin Lutsch of Salem.

Other officers elected were: Patrolman William McGuein, Columbian, vice president; Alliance Patrolmen George Sotcan, recording secretary, E. C. McDonald, financial secretary, George Ziga, conductor, Harry Myers, chaplain; Lisbon Police Chief D. E. Pike, guard, and Salem Patrolman George Reash trustee for a three-year term.

Installation ceremonies will be held in Leetonia next month.

GETS RUSSIAN VISA—After waiting six months, the Rev. George Bissonnette finally obtained a visa to go to Moscow. The 31-year-old Russian-speaking priest will be the only clergyman of his faith in Moscow where he'll be spiritual adviser to members of the American diplomatic colony. He's shown above in Washington displaying the long-awaited visa.

McVay Funeral

LISBON—Funeral service for Donald F. McVay, 20, of near Lisbon, who was killed in an auto accident Thursday at Fallon, Nev., where he had worked the past six months for a construction company, will be held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 at the Henry funeral home.

Rev. Paul T. Gerrard, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Lee Cemetery, near Lisbon.

Friends may call at the funeral home Tuesday afternoon and evening, beginning at 3.

Red Skelton Undergoes Operation For Hernia

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (P)—Red Skelton was recuperating today from a three-hour operation performed yesterday to correct a diaphragmatic hernia.

Dr. Stanley W. Immerman, one of the surgeons, said that barring complications, the TV and film comic will be out of the hospital in 10 to 12 days but must remain at home three weeks longer. Skelton's TV shows have been filmed six weeks ahead.

Skelton's condition is sometimes called an upside down stomach. The hernia caused his stomach to push against his heart and lungs, resulting in breathing difficulties and other trouble.

The comedian's wife, Mrs. Georgiana Skelton, said he had been suffering excruciating pain since the start of his television shows this season and that she was glad he finally made the decision to undergo surgery.

She shrugged off reports of recent family disagreements with the statement: "Red and I still happen to be in love."

Declaration Of Independence, Constitution Take Last Ride

WASHINGTON (P)—The widely traveled Declaration of Independence and U. S. Constitution today make what should be their last move.

In an armored car, followed by two light tanks, the historic documents were to be transferred from the Library of Congress to the National Archives.

In the past, the documents have been carried to safety whenever the national security was threatened. In World War II, for example, they were buried at Ft. Knox.

In their new home, they can be stored in what is believed to be the world's largest safe.

President Truman will make the main speech Monday at the formal dedication of the new shrine.

Twenty feet below him and out of sight will be the safe in which the Declaration, the Constitution and the Bill of Rights (which was moved to the Archives previously) can be stored when not on public display.

The safe weighs 20 tons. It has its own built-in elevators. The doors alone, which swing from the top instead of from the side, weigh five tons. Inside the documents are considered safe from bombs, fire, burglars or water.

The Declaration of Independence was written by Thomas Jefferson on a single sheet of parchment. The Constitution takes up five sheets. The Bill of Rights, which amends the Constitution to guarantee citizens certain rights and limits the power of the federal government, is on one sheet.

Each of these is enclosed in a special, helium filled case to keep it from deteriorating—any further, that is. The Declaration already is so faded it's almost impossible to read in spots.

That's because in its early days it was toted about repeatedly. From July 4, 1776, until the establishment of the federal government under the Constitution in 1789, it was moved every time the Continental Congress moved. Mostly, it simply was rolled up and taken along.

During the War of 1812, when the British approached Washington the three documents were hastily removed, first to a Grist Mill across the Potomac and later to Leesburg, Va.

Greenford Churches Plan Yule Programs

GREENFORD—The local churches have planned Christmas programs to be given the following nights.

The Lutheran church will have theirs Sunday evening, Dec. 21, 7:30 at the church.

The Christian Church will have the Bunker Hill Methodist Church put on a musical pageant Tuesday evening, Dec. 23, at 8 in the church. The pageant, "The Vision Eternal" is in two parts. "The Night's Promise" and "The Light of Fulfillment."

The Locust Grove Baptist church and the Salem Baptist Church will present a Cantata at Salem Sunday evening, Dec. 21 and at the Greenford jschool Wednesday evening, Dec. 24.

Fire Destroys 2 Hotels, 16 Other Businesses

ROCKLAND, Me. (P)—Two hotels and 16 other business establishments were wiped out in a million dollar fire at this old seaport Friday night.

The spectacular, wind-driven blaze destroyed 10 wooden buildings. Four others, housing eight more businesses, were damaged. A dozen families, living in apartments over some of the stores, were left homeless.

Petit Jurors Called

To Courthouse Monday

LISBON—Norman E. Ward, common pleas court bailiff, issued a reminder for the 40 customians ordered to report for petit jury duty next week to report Monday. Ward said they had been ordered to report Tuesday but a jury case has been assigned for Monday morning. They are to report at 9 a.m.

SUPERB NEW ZENITH HEARING AIDS

If a loved one is hard-of-hearing, no gift can be more precious than one of the three handsome and efficient Zenith Hearing Aids. Choose any model, take it with you—what a delightful surprise on Christmas morning! 10-day money-back guarantee!

2 New Developments IN ZENITH'S 1953 MODELS!

✓ THE EXTERNAL MICROPHONE
Smartly designed accessory for your necktie, coat-lapel, dress or suit, this wonderfully sensitive miniature mike brings better hearing because of lessened clothing "whispers." Available at slight extra cost.

✓ THE PHONE MAGNET
Already proved and praised by the wearers of Zenith's recently introduced "Regent" model, the thrilling Phone Magnet is now included in the "Royal" and "Super-Royal" instruments. This ingenious device assures you clearer-than-ever telephone conversations because it shuts out all other sounds and interference.
